“ We know that, right now, there are no brilliant words that can be spoken that can begin to touch the broken hearts. We can only hope that ALL of you that are blessed to have Bennett in your life, will find peace that he is now your private guardian angel, and you will someday all be together again. Your extended family in New Hampshire sends their prayers and best wishes to the entire family during this most difficult time. Bless your hearts!., Diana and Alvin Fadden and family
