“ My heart is heavy with grief over David's passing. Though I knew him for less than 30 days, the impact he had on my life is profound and everlasting. His wisdom was immense, his heart even more so. I deeply regret not having more conversations with him when I had the opportunity. Yet, I am filled with gratitude for the time we did share, and for the wisdom he imparted. His positive outlook and the depth of his understanding have inspired me to view life through a more hopeful and appreciative lens. I will carry the lessons he taught me and the spirit of his kindness in my heart always. David's memory will continue to be a source of strength and guidance for me. - Allen Horne
