“ Howard was an amazing man. He could fix anything. Very talented working with wood. He could have such a stern look and then just say something hilarious and start laughing. That wonderful laugh ! I met him 3 years ago at Firehouse Subs and, except for a few blips, continued laughing with him. We even sang silly songs together. After he bought his own house, he would cook dinner for me almost every Friday night. He had so much fun being “chef”. We even attended a cooking class together. He was a much better cook than me. I miss him so much. Goodbye, sweet, funny, incredible Howard. LY
