“ I had the privilege of living with this amazing lady in the last years of her life and I am honored to have spent those years with her and Sam. In that time I learned that her life could have been a made for TV movie of the week, heck, even a six night mini series! It would be something between “Steel Magnolias” , with higher heels, and “Game of Thrones “, with more strategy. She was the most driven person I have ever met. She knew what she wanted and she always made it happen! She added so much beauty to this world including an incredible son and a beautiful daughter....Job well done! We will always carry you with us. Now you can rest.
