March 5, 2015 - June 5, 2015

Justin Matthew Hyche passed away Friday, June 5, 2015. A visitation for family and friends will be Monday, June 15, 2015 at Enon Baptist Church from 5:00 to 7:00 P.M. with a memorial service following at 7:00 P.M.

A Wish And A Prayer

May your spirit soar in freedom
From fears that gripped so tight.
May you find the peace you searched for
As you wandered, lost, in the night.

May your tortured mind be clear and calm
And you tender heart be warm.
May you have no need for strength now.
May there ne'er be another storm.

May the music of the angels
Be sweet the sounds that you hear.
As you rocked in Heaven's cradle
May you ne'er shed another tear.

We'll wear your memory proudly

Our son, our brother, our true friend.
May our love for you reach Heaven above
Until we meet again.

“ I miss my cousin Justin dearly. We would laugh & wheeze until tears formed, couldn't see, our cheeks got sore... He wrote a note for me that I found in my backpack on the way to school, I believe in the 8th grade that simply said "You're awesome, don't ever forget that. Love, Justin"

He also would do this "Happy Feet" dance from the movie, and would move his feet so fast it would look like he was floating across the floor.... that memory always made me laugh, and I convinced him to show some of my friends sometimes (if he had the energy for it after work).

I always wish he could've been at my high school graduation because I knew I'd definitely be able to hear him cheering, and it would've sounded really silly & make me laugh, and I'd be proud for everyone to hear that goofy noise after my name was called, even if he wouldn't care if it embarrassed me, it wouldn't have because I wanted everyone to meet him so we could all laugh. He knew how to fill a room with mirth. But I know to this day, he continues to cheer me on as a guardian angel.

I'm so grateful for my family, friends, and my life. I cherish them dearly. Whoever reads this, I wish you continue to make this world a better place. Thank you for being you. Thank you for remembering my cousin.

♡ Thank you Justin, for just being you, bringing me so much joy, and inspiring me to be confident. Whenever I think of you, and the ways you laughed, I can't help but smile, chuckle, or cheer up. I keep that thought closeby at all times, in case I need to stay strong. I'm also so grateful for all the times you spent talking to me about advice, and anything about helping me grow up to be the best I can be, it helped a lot, and I appreciated you making the time to do so for me. I could tell you loved me, and did think I was awesome. I miss making you laugh, and vice versus.

I hope to make you, and everyone I know proud. I love you. ♡

“ My little brother was taken from us too soon. He never had the chance to meet his nephew, my son, Jackson. Justin n Jacks would've loved each other to no end. I spoke at Justins memorial service with my sister Jamie and at the time I nor my doctors or the rest of the world had any idea I was 8 MO pregnant. In classic Justin style, when I got to the hospital and found out that it was not just 5 kidney stones and I was being sent to delivery THEN, the m OK moment Jackson cried for the first time, JUSTIN LAUGHED HIS SILLY LAUGH IN MY EAR. Justin I named Jackson Mathew in ur honor. Thank you for letting me be ur big said for 33 short but REALLY FUN YEARS. I LOVE U

“ Justin is such a good hearted person, one day he pulled up at a mutual friend's house on a motorcycle, and my son wanted to ride. Well I don't trust to many people with my kids but I knew Justin wouldn't hurt my son so I let him go and he took River out on that thing for probably 30 minutes. When they got back River was so happy and thanked Justin. You were always a good friend with a big heart, I'll miss you bud.
