“ I’m Derek Mccollum I worked for marke years ago for about 4 years or so. One of the best people ive ever met. He taught me things that carried me through most of my life in that short time. Fun, loving, trusting man of his word in my book. Go rest high on that mountain.

“ I will never forget the joy he had when we told him I was pregnant, our girl was his entire world after that. Every conversation he had always had his family in it. I remember him telling me in a very hard time that family and God would pull you through it every time. He never made me feel like an addition but his own daughter like I was there the whole time. I will forever miss my extra dad and will continue to bring light like he always did for us.
