“ Phoenix baby Phoenix! We had so much fun out there he loved it. I remember his 1st time coming out there to visit me he went exploring and got lost as well as hot so when he finally found his way back he was so thirsty he chugged tap water by the time I realized it, he had already doneit made him so sicklol that became one of his favorite stories although after he felt better we went to The Grand Canyon and he couldn't have been more on top of the world it was amazing to him so he soon after moved out there and stayed with me to work for a while. Scott was such an awesome person and it was always fun to hang out with him he was hilarious you never knew what was coming out of his mouth next 😊 I love you and Miss you uncle Scott.
